

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

Royal Yeast has been the standard yeast in Canada for over 50 years, and it is a well known fact that bread made with Royal Yeast possesses a greater amount of nourishment than that made with any other.

Canada's Present Task

With the Peace Treaty formally approved by the parliaments of Great Britain and Germany, and in process of ratification in other countries; with Canada's parliament about to meet to signify its approval of the Treaty and with the Canadian army officially declared demobilized, the people of this Dominion are called upon to set themselves sternly to the task of fully restoring their country to a peace basis. In doing so they are confronted with many problems and burdens which are left to them as a legacy of the Great War, and these problems must be faced and solved and these burdens carried under entirely new social and industrial conditions which have been born in the minds and spirits of men during the period of the great upheaval through which we have passed.

Great as were the problems connected with the vigorous and successful prosecution of the war, they pale into insignificance when contrasted with the multitude of problems which peace, under these new world conditions, force upon us. The lofty patriotism and spirit of self-sacrifice which animated the people of Canada during the war must continue with them in these even more difficult days of peace if Canada is not now to lose all that she so valiantly defended on the battlefields of Europe. It was comparatively easy to save for Canada, sacrifice for Canada, serve Canada in the dark days of war; it is going to be infinitely harder to do so now that the incentive to victory is removed. But it is just as vitally necessary to our national welfare and future now as then—even more necessary.

With a national debt of $2,000,000,000 upon which to pay interest and gradually liquidate, with millions required annually for pensions, with other great national obligations to carry, all the expenses of the public services to be met, and provision made for great national undertakings required in the development for use of our natural resources, the eight million people of Canada have a task to perform which calls for the best in every man and woman, and each man and each woman must do his and her share if Canada is to succeed and prosper.

In a few weeks the people of Canada will be asked to subscribe to another large domestic loan, a loan which is necessary to pay off the remainder of the Dominion's war bills and to enable the national government to carry on the business of the country in these still unsettled times. It will probably be the last of these war loans, because Canada cannot go on borrowing indefinitely. The time is fast approaching when, not by way of loans to the Government, but in the payment of taxes the people of Canada will have to meet all national expenses, as well as provide a certain amount annually wherewith to reduce the national debt.

Canadians must face that necessity, and it is well that they should begin to prepare for it now. Canada as a nation can only meet its obligations to its own people and to the world by becoming a nation of producers in a larger way than ever before attempted. The natural resources of this country, vast and rich as they are known to be, but as yet largely undeveloped, must be developed for use. By their development alone can the necessary wealth be produced which will enable Canada to "carry on" successfully and prosper.

It is incumbent, therefore, on all Canadians to set themselves seriously to the task of ascertaining where and how they can best employ their abilities and energies in the work of production. On the farm, in the mine and forest, in the fisheries and in the factory, Canadians must display industry and energy. Taxes they must pay heavier than in the past, and unless they produce something which will add to their own and the nation's wealth, they will be in no position to pay. Canadian boys paid for Canada's independence and well-being with their life's blood during the past five years; all other Canadians must pay for Canada's honor, well-being and future prosperity and greatness by the full use of brain and brawn in the years of peace we are now to enjoy.

As the Montreal Star said in a recent editorial on "The Need of Canada," Canadians must go forward with a new, better, a larger outlook. "Surely," says the Star, "with the immense legacy of debt that the war has bequeathed to us we would be wise to put away childish things, forget old quarrels which belong to the political nursery and face with courage and dignity the things that make for our peace, our strength and our security. There is no solution in the creed of destruction and no hope for men or nations save in industry, sanity, confidence and co-operation. Canada needs People, Production and Development. If we would concentrate upon these vital problems a multitude of lesser problems would settle themselves and we would begin to prove ourselves worthy of the great inheritance we possess. There was resource and dignity in Canada when we achieved Confederation. So, too, when we set all our energies to the Great War. A world in anguish and travail reveals too clearly that like unity, courage and devotion to vital things are needed to hold the civilization that we thought was saved on the red fields of Europe. Let us not relapse into a state of tribal warfare and spend ourselves in the paltry partisan quarrels and ignoble controversies which fill too many pages of our political history. Of Canada I had fainted unless I had believed to see the goodness of the Lord in the land of the living."

Turks Make Protest
Constantinople.—The American commission charged with an investigation in Turkey regarding possible mandates has concluded its work so far as the Armenian question is concerned. Turks who were heard by the commission in connection with the Armenia commission protested both orally and in writing against the creation of an independent Armenia state.

The commission, it was said, will go now to Smyrna and Adrianople and will conclude its work in about two weeks.

SUMMER COMPLAINT IS A SERIOUS BOWEL TROUBLE

Very few people escape an attack of Summer Complaint. It may be slight, or it may be severe, but nearly everyone is liable to it.

You can't tell when it seizes on you, how it may end. Allow the profuse diarrhoea, the vomiting and purging to continue for a day or two and you will become weak and prostrated.

Just as soon as the bowels become loosened up, get a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry and check these unnatural movements, and thus prevent the system from becoming weakened.

Mrs. L. J. Altman, wife of the well known wholesale and retail Fish Dealer, 44 Hill St., Montreal, N.S., writes: "I have four children, the oldest being eight years old. Every summer they were troubled with Summer Complaint. Doctors' prescriptions did not seem to help them any. One day a friend asked me to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I at once got a bottle, and to my surprise and wonder, I soon saw a change in them. I now keep a bottle of it in the house all the time, and will recommend it to any mother."

"Dr. Fowler's" is 35c. a bottle. Get the original which has been put up for the past 74 years by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera, infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to cure them. No other medicine is of such aid as mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Money For Everybody

New Labor Programme Has Unique Scheme

London.—The latest thing in the labor programme of social reform is provision for a minimum income for every man, woman and child.

Under the scheme, which is fathered by Arthur Henderson, secretary of the Labor party, and G. A. H. Cole, attached to the research department, twenty per cent. of all incomes would be nationalized at the source and paid in a pool which would be devoted solely to the provision of a permanent weekly income of $2.25 a week to everybody. In this way, the sponsors of the plan say, it is hoped not merely to free the country from the future payment of old-age pensions, but of most, if not all, of the national and private agencies for the distribution of relief.

United States Sends Warning To Mexico

The Murdering of American Citizens Must Be Stopped
Washington.—The state department's announcement that President Carranza had been informed by this government that unless the Mexican government took immediate steps to put an end to the murder of American citizens in Mexico this government would be compelled to "adopt a radical change in its policy" in regard to that country, occasioned no end of speculation in military and naval circles.

As was the case the other day, there was no official statement forthcoming to indicate the nature of the radical change foreshadowed. The United States government is in a position to act immediately upon the President's gives the word. Massed along the border or within 24 hours' rail journey of the border lands at San Antonio, El Paso and Columbus, are eleven regiments of cavalry, seven of infantry, six of field artillery, two of engineers, one machine-gun battalion, three airplane squadrons, nine balloon companies, one battalion of signalers, seventeen pack trains, and sixteen motor transport companies, in addition to the needed quota of special and technical troops.

The Carranza government will not be permitted to import further arms and munitions from the United States, for the present at least.

This became known following the publication of the exchange of notes between the United States and Mexico, in which the American government threatened a change of policy unless Americans in Mexico were adequately protected.

Be Ready

Advice Sir Douglas Haig Urges on the Country

Speaking as a man "who has seen enough of war," Sir Douglas Haig urged on the present-day needs the warning which Lord Roberts and the Daily Mail so repeatedly addressed to deaf ears while the Hun was planning his attack. We all desire peace, but we cannot, even in the hour of complete victory, disregard the injunction uttered by our first soldier, "Be ready." We ought to be ready to fight in order that we may never have to fight. Morally and physically the war has shown us that the effect of discipline and training upon the youth of the country is an asset beyond calculation. We paid the penalty of unpreparedness once. Can we take the risk a second time?

Many children die of the assaults of worms, and the first care of mothers should be to see that their "little ones" are free from these pests. A vermicide that can be depended on is Miller's Worm Powders. They will not only expel worms from the system, but also give strengthening medicine and a remedy for many of the ailments that beset infants, including them and endangering their lives.

Drugs For Livestock

Chief Aim of Veterinarian Should Be to Prevent Disease

There is no sense in persistently "doping" a sick animal with drugs; yet some men seem to go into the habit and keep it up with detrimental effect rather than benefit to their beasts. Healthy animals need no drugs; the sick need attention and medicine from one specially trained intelligently and judiciously to give such aid. The less medicine the better, so long as the animal gets plenty of good food and is protected against disease by every possible means.

The chief aim of the veterinarian, as well as the owner of livestock, should be to prevent disease instead of having to treat it, and this is coming to be the prevailing conception of the matter. We hear far too much about concoctions to be dissolved and mixed in slop for tormented pigs; and too much about all manner of alleged cholera cures which, in every instance, are worthless. We hear far too little of the true causes of disease, and the sources of pestering parasites. Yet it is all-important that we should know how diseases arise and spread, and how they may be warded off and made innocuous. So, too, of parasites. They are not inevitable and unavoidable. They may be rooted out and kept out. Neither are animals really "heirs to disease." They may be born healthy, stay healthy and live to a good old age, without suffering from disease or requiring "dope" of any kind.—Breeders' Gazette.

Detained War Mail To Go Forward

Was Held Because Its Transmission Would Have Assisted German Army and Naval Plans.

London.—The forwarding of mail detained during the war by the postal censor will be completed on August 30, the war office announces. The mail was held because its transmission would have assisted the German army and naval plans, increased the commercial and financial resources of the enemy or aided the far-reaching German political and commercial propaganda commission.

The handling over of this delayed matter began on June 25. It is estimated that 630,000 pieces of mail were examined during war and that 1,300,000 were detained, of which 592,500 have been released recently.

Approximately 150,000 pieces of mail seized originates in the United States or was going to the United States when it reached the censor's hands. Of the remaining matter that originated in or destined for the United Kingdom will be destroyed except the letters or packages containing articles of value and documents of importance.

In regard to mails routed over the United Kingdom to and from foreign countries, and mails landed from neutral ships which entered British territorial waters it has been decided that pieces containing goods, currency, securities and other valuable papers will be put into prize court.

Commercial and private correspondence containing valuable documents will be released. Other private correspondence will be destroyed because of the great cost of re-examination. The war office statement adds:

"The disposal of these detained packages has been the subject of long and careful consideration. The decisions reached have been governed by a desire to guard the interests of neutral as well as allied nations, to avoid as far as possible injury to commercial firms and individuals and to avoid unreasonable expense."

Common Sense Toward Germany

Nations Against Germany Must Be So Strong That They Cannot Satisfy Be Attacked

If the Germans are raising an army now, beyond the limitations imposed their crops damaged by drought inarily foolish. The powers which conquered them will crush their new militarism without a doubt if it shows itself. But if they wait until caution relaxes, until a new generation appears and until experience only whispers and no longer talks plainly, they may appear with an aggressive military force again. The only way in which a great nation can be kept disarmed for a long term of years is by the constant work of an army of occupation. Constabulary can keep the Filipinos disarmed, but an allied constabulary cannot keep the Germans unarmed for the next hundred years. And an agreement or treaty cannot keep them disarmed. The nations against Germany must rely for protection against the Germany of the future by being so strong that they cannot safely be attacked. That is not militarism. It is common sense.—Chicago Tribune.

Horses Versus Elephant

Tests made to determine the respective pulling power of horses, men and elephants showed that two horses weighing 1,600 pounds each, together pull 3,750 pounds, or 350 pounds more than their combined weight. One elephant weighing 12,000 pounds pulled 8,750 pounds, or 3,250 pounds less than its weight. Fifty men, aggregating 7,500 pounds, pulled 8,750 pounds, or just as much as the single elephant, but, like the horses, they pulled more than their own weight. One hundred men pulled twelve thousand pounds.

It Works! Try It

Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

Good news spreads rapidly and the people are getting busy dispensing frezzone, the other discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers.

Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of frezzone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so shriveled that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection, heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

THE COW PUNCHER

Dave watched. Saw the black card go down at one corner of the board; saw a bystander fumbling for a five dollar bill; saw the bill laid on the card; saw it turned up—and it was red.

"That is smooth," he said. "I'd a sworn that was the black card."

"So it was—when you saw it," his companion explained. "But you was just like the sucker that played him. You couldn't help glancing at the jay getting out his money, and it was in that instant the trick was done. He's too quick for the eye, but that's how he does it."

Dave became interested. He saw two or three others lose five and tens. Then his companion pinched his arm. "Watch that new guy," he whispered. "Watch him. He's wise."

A new player had approached. He stood near the table for some minutes, apparently looking on casually; then his left hand came down on one of the cards. "A hundred on this one," he said, and he began thumbing out a roll with his other hand.

"You ain't playin'," said the dealer. "You ain't in on this."

"Ain't I? What do you say, fellows?" turning to the crowd. "Am I in or not?"

"Sure, you're in," they exclaimed. "Sure you're in," repeated a big fellow, lunging forward. "If this guy ain't in we clean you out, son."

"It's on me," said the dealer, with an ugly smile. "Well, if I must pay, I'll pay. Turn 'er up."

It was black. The dealer paid out a hundred dollars to the new player, who quickly disappeared in the crowd.

Dave had made his decision. It was plain his companion's tip was straight. There was just one way to beat this game, but it was simple enough when you knew how. He sidled close to the table, making great pretense of indifference, but watching the cards closely with his keen black eyes. The dealer showed his hand, made a few quick passes, and the black card flew out to the right. This was Dave's chance. He pounced on it with his left hand, while his other plunged into his pocket.

"Sixty dollars on this one," he cried, and there was the triumphant note in his voice of the man who knows he has beaten the other at his own game.

"You ain't playin'," said the dealer. "You ain't in on this."

"That don't go," said Dave, very quickly. "You're playin' a public game here, an' I choose to play with you, this once. Sixty dollars on this card." He was fumbling his money on the table.

"You ain't playin'," repeated the dealer. "You're a butt-in. You ain't in this game at all."

"Sure he is," said the crowd.

"Sure he is," repeated the big fellow who had interfered before. "He's a stranger here, but you play with him or you don't play no more in this joint, see?"

"That's his'n! He was in the same spot, an' hittin' me hard," whined the dealer, "but you got it on me. Turn 'er up."

The card was red.

Dave looked at it stupidly. It was a moment or two before he realized that his money was gone. Then, regardless of those about, he rushed through the crowd, flinging by-standers right and left, and plunged into the night.

He walked down a street until it lost itself on the prairie; then he followed a prairie trail far into the country. The air was cold and a few drops of rain were flying in it, but he was unconscious of the weather. He was in a rage through and through. More than once his hand went to his revolver, and he half turned on his heel to retrace his steps, but his better judgment led him on to fight it out with himself. Slop-eye was now a dream, a memory, gone—gone. Everything was gone; only his revolver and a few cents remained. He gripped the revolver again. With that he was supreme. No man in all that town of men, schooled in the ways of the West, was more than his equal while that grip lay in his palm. At the point of that muzzle he could demand his money back—and get it.

Then he laughed. Hollow and empty it sounded in the night air, but it was a laugh, and it saved his spirit. "Why, you fool," he chuckled. "You came to town for to learn somethin', didn't you? Well, you're leavin'. Sixty dollars a throw. Education comes high, don't it? But you shouldn't kick. He didn't coax you in, an' gave you every chance to back away. You butted in and got stung. Perhaps you've learned somethin' worth sixty dollars."

With these more philosophical thoughts he turned toward again, and as he tramped along his light-heartedness reasserted itself. His sense of fairness made him feel that he had no grievance against the card sharper, and in his innocence of the game it never occurred to him that the friendly stranger who had showed him how to play it, and the big fellow who insisted on his being "in," and the other player who had won a hundred dollars a few minutes before, were all partners with the sharper and probably at this moment were dividing his sixty dollars—the price of old Slop-eye—between them.

Early next morning he was awake and astir. The recollection of his loss sent a sudden pang through his mind, but he tried to close his mind to it. "No use worryin' over that," he said, jingling the few coins that now represented his wealth. "That's over and gone. I traded sixty dollars for my first lesson. Maybe it was a bad trade, but anyway, I ain't goin' to squal." He turned that thought over in his mind. It suddenly occurred to him that it expressed a principle which he might very well weave into his new life. "If I can just get that idea, an' live up to it," he said, "never to squal, no matter what his me, now how, I guess it's worth sixty dollars." He whistled as he finished dressing, ate his breakfast cheerfully, and set out in search of employment.

CHAPTER FIVE.

Almost the first person he met was the stranger who had schooled him in the gambling game the night before. He greeted Dave cordially; his voice had a soft, sedulous, almost feminine quality which Dave had not noticed in their whispered conversation in the pool room. "There was something attractive about his personality; something which invited friendship and even confidence, and yet beneath these emotions Dave felt a sense of distrust, as though part of his nature rebelled against the acquaintance."

"That was the rottenest luck you had last night," said the stranger, saying, "I never saw the beat of it. I knew you were wrong the moment you had your hand down, but I couldn't butt in then. I was hoping you'd stay and raise him next time; you might have got your money back that way."

"Oh, I don't mind the money," said Dave, cheerfully. "I don't want it back. In fact, I figure it was pretty well spent."

"Lots more where it came from, eh?" laughed the other. "You're from the ranches, I see, and I suppose the price of a steer or two doesn't worry you a hair's worth."

"From is right," Dave replied. "I'm from them, an' I'm not goin' back. As for money—well, I spent my last nickel for breakfast, so I've got to line up a job before noon."

The stranger extended his hand. "Shake," he said. "I like you. You're no squaler, anyway. My name is Conward. Yours?"

Dave told his name, and shook hands. Conward offered his cigarette box, and the two smoked for a few moments in silence.

"What kind of a job do you want?" Conward asked at length.

"Any kind that pays a wage," said Dave. "If I don't like it I'll chuck it as soon as I can afford 't' be particular, but just now I've got to get a grub-stake."

"I know the fellow that runs an employment agency down here," Conward answered. "Let's go down. Perhaps I can put you in right."

Conward spoke to the manager of the employment agency and introduced Dave.

"Nothing very choice on tap to-day," said the employment man. "You can handle horses, I suppose?"

"I guess I can," said Dave. "Some."

"I can place you delivering coal. Thirty dollars a month, and you board with the boss."

"I'll take it," said Dave.

The boss proved to be one Thomas McFarland. He owned half a dozen teams and was engaged in the cartage business, specializing on coal. He was a man of big frame, big head, and a vocabulary appropriate to the purpose to which he applied it. Among his other possessions were a wife, numerous children, and a house and barn, in which he boarded his beasts of burden, including in the term his horses, his men, and his wife, in the order of their valuation. The children were a by-product, valueless until such time as they also would be able to work.

Loss From Forest Fires

Taking Tremendous Toll of Canadian National Wealth.

A message sent out by the Canadian Forestry Association says:

One of the most destructive forest seasons in recent years is taking a tremendous toll of Canadian national wealth. With the exception of a small area in Northern Ontario, practically all the fires cleaned off the timber crops on lands that are useless for agriculture. Such lands can grow only one crop, and that is wood. Once stripped, these areas lie profitless for half a century or more. Repeated fires usually kill reproduction for all time to come, and another section of barrens is thereby added to the nation's great losses.

Contrary to public impression, every forest fire is a direct blow at the provincial or federal treasury, for the reason that more than ninety per cent. of the forest lands of Canada are public-owned. Licenses issued for cutting rights and are usually for one year. The title to the land always remains in the name of the Canadian people, and this fact makes forest-protection essentially a matter for public co-operation. More than seven million dollars a year are taken in taxes from forest areas by provincial and Dominion governments.

No Real Distress in Alberta

Calgary.—Exhaustive investigations have been conducted by the provincial government into the conditions of the farmers in the drought-stricken districts in the southern end of this province, with the result that it has been shown that there is no real distress arising from crop failures, and that the government will not be required to furnish very much assistance to families. However, it will be necessary to provide feed in many cases.

Cuba Terrified By Voodoo Worshippers

Cannibalistic Practice Resulted in Death of Three Children

Havana, Cuba.—With the recent sudden outbreak of cannibalistic practice by voodoo worshippers, which have resulted in the death of at least three innocent children and a half dozen of the Voodoos, the latter by lynx law for the first time in this country's history, fathers and mothers are living in constant fear that their little ones may be spirited away by the superstitious negroes to be offered up in sacrifice to Changó, the god of the Brujos, as they are called in the Castilian language.

The Voodoos are divided into various sects, each with its separate god. The latter include Babalú, god of sickness; Eleggua, god of injury; Olorun, god of misery; and Changó, the terrible god, to whom human sacrifices are made.

Changó, according to the Voodoo belief, was the son of Olorun and Amariaga. He was slain by Eleggua, the god of injury, and ascended into Heaven from a Ceiba, or god tree, in the month of May. It is in the month of May, therefore, that the Brujos observe their holy week, when Changó is expected to make a week's visit to the earth, descending by the Ceiba, has sacred tree, always on Monday.

The followers of Eleggua do not directly offer human sacrifice, although their healers sacrifice the lives of some patient by giving them poisonous concoctions, supposedly a mysterious cure for some ailment, in order to restore to health some other patient. Eleggua, being the god of injury, his followers believe that good can come to one person only through injury to another.

Voodooism is not practiced by the negroes alone. Many white persons also are said secretly to take part in their religious meetings, and accusations have been heard in various quarters of the difficulties encountered by officers seeking to break up their temples because of the obstacles placed in their way by persons of influence.

An active campaign by the authorities in Havana and other parts of the island have resulted in the capture of numerous Brujos and the seizure of many curious and weird objects used by them.

Taxation System To Revive France

Everyone Must Pay. According to His Means

Paris.—France now must found the "republic of victory," Captain Andre Tardieu declared in a speech on the occasion of the transfer of the ashes of Deputy Abel Ferry, who was killed in action during the war.

"The tremendous French effort by which our dead have breathed with begin with a sustained effort of material reconstruction of the whole of France."

"The victory equipment must be created at once; our railways must be electrified and loans for national equipment must be floated."

"Everyone must in justice pay according to his means. In order to place this fiscal system of justice on a sound basis, two principles must be kept in view — to tax the small fortunes, fairly and to tax the big ones progressively. When the big ones shall pay, as they do in America, sixty and seventy per cent, then the small ones will pay more willingly, and if the money comes the rest will be simplified."

Lucky for William

It is lucky for William Hohenzollern that his trial is to take place on English soil—not at all because the English will be more sympathetic with him than another nation might be, but because there is a traditional fairness and impartiality about English justice which no other country, not even our own, has been able to surpass. The object of the French and Italian courts is to obtain a conviction; the aim of an English court is to administer justice. Our own practice is marred by far too much opportunity for delay, by devices of technicality that cheat justice of her due.—New York Times.

Another International Question Settled

"We now hear," remarks "Punch," that the question regarding the possession of Kladszaffigalioffa, a toffia, in Poland, which has caused so much of the delay at the Peace Conference, has been satisfactorily settled. The four big powers are to have a couple of syllables each and the remaining three will be raffled for."

For Benefit Of Farmers

Merchants' Bank Establishes Rural Service Department in Western Provinces

As an evidence of the forward movement being taken by the banks in lending assistance to the farmers may be cited the fact that the Merchants' Bank of Canada has recently established a Rural Service Department for the western provinces. One of the efforts of this department will be to assist specifically in alleviating conditions due to the feed shortage.

It is now announced that Mr. James L. Clarke, formerly manager of the bank's branches at Sedgewick, Alta., Oak Lake, Man., and Grenfell, Sask., has been appointed manager for the western provinces, with headquarters at Regina.

Mr. Clarke is well qualified for his new position, having had extended experience both as a banker and farmer. For many years he conducted the Lyledale Stock Farm at Sedgewick, where he acquired practical knowledge of mixed farming. Mr. Clarke will now devote his time and energies to the study of western conditions, and more particularly to problems vital to the farmer and rancher. Farmers and stockmen may feel free to consult with Mr. Clarke either by letter or by a personal interview. His office is located at 1825 Scarth Street, Regina.

German Rioters Kill Soldier

Crowd Threatened to Interfere With Burial Ceremonies

Berlin.—Eight officers and 15 privates were killed, and six officers and 85 privates were wounded in the rioting last week at Chemnitz, Saxony, according to an official announcement. The dead will be interred with military honors at Frankenberg instead of at Chemnitz, owing to the continued hostility of a large section of the populace to the government troops. Crowds gathered in front of the flower shops where wreaths for the dead officers and men were displayed and demanded that they be removed. The crowd threatened to interfere with the burial ceremonies.

All Upper Silesia is without electric power owing to the spread of the general strike to the electrical works. Industrial activity is at a standstill. The state commissioner has threatened, in view of the seriousness of the situation, to introduce compulsory labor in Upper Silesia and to man the electric power plants with militia.

World's Largest Farm

No Horses Are Used, the Work All Being Done By Tractors

A 200,000-acre farm, the largest in the world, which is the direct result of the U. S. Government's efforts to stimulate the growing of wheat, is described by Robert H. Moulton.

"The farm is devoted entirely to wheat, and if it produces somewhere around the average of 28 bushels per acre, which is practically certain, it will add approximately five million six hundred thousand bushels to the 1919 wheat-crop."

"All of the work is being done with tractors. Last fall when the first ground was broken, there were fifty monster machines at work tearing up the prairie sod. This spring others have been at work. They plow on an average one acre a minute for the working time. A record was made one day of eighteen hundred and eighty acres tilled and broken. All the seeding, harvesting, etc., will also be done by tractors, and then, of course, there are the threshing machines. Hence the absolute no-accountness of horses about this place."

Binks: "Do you and your wife ever think the same?"

Jinks: "When I'm out late at the club we do. She keeps thinking what she'll say when I get home, and so do I."

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make This Beauty Lotion Cheaply for Your Face, Neck, Arms and Hands

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, whiten and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

Finding Ways To Avoid Peace Terms

Significance of Militarizing Police in Germany is Great

Cöln.—The militarization of German police allegedly contrary to the terms of the treaty of peace, has already been begun, according to information reaching authorities here. In the city of Cassel, the police were recently completely organized on military lines by the Prussian government, it is said, and are now equipped with steel helmets and rifles and follow the routine of a military company in their barracks. Of the 300 state police in office in Cassel, 100 have elected to be transferred to the new organization, and the remainder have been given places in the civil service.

The ultimate size of the new militarized police organization has not been announced. Those studying the demobilization, and reorganization of the German army say that the significance of militarizing police in Germany is great.

American officers have records of an announcement that the Prussian state government, apart from the national government, was to organize a "schutzmannschaft" or state police force, throughout Prussia, which would be virtually military units in garb with full infantry equipment, but without the interior control of the police. The interior and used only for the repression of internal disorders. These troops, according to the plan, were to be kept apart and in excess of the army permitted Germany under the terms of the peace treaty.

A semi-official announcement, however, states that it is appreciated that these troops are not permitted under the terms of the peace treaty, but the hope is expressed that the allies will be "reasonable" and permit their organization. The Cassel incident, it is contended by American officers, occurred long after the treaty was signed, but before the allied and inter-allied commission on military control of Germany had begun to function, shows the Prussian government is proceeding to organize a military force, trusting that the allies will not take any action against it.

London's First Telephone Line

With telephones in such common use today, it seems hard to realize that a little more than 40 years ago a number of prominent business men in London held a meeting to decide whether or not they should venture to invest some capital in the construction of telephone lines. They were of opinion that the telephone could not be of any great commercial value, but might be used as a means of transmitting the late speeches made in the House of Commons to newspaper offices. As a matter of fact, the first public telephone line established in London connected the House of Commons with the Times office and was used for the purpose just mentioned.

Much publicity is already being received in the press of the United States as a result of the recent visit of members of the National Editorial Association to this city. Many papers are carrying special articles that favorably tell of this city's opportunities, and particularly of the hospitality of the people.

In the latter regard, The Waukegan Daily Sun, of Waukegan, Ill., has much to say, and states that Canadians, for hospitality, 'have it over Americans like a tent.' 'Americans seem too busy to give much time to the entertainment of visitors: Canadians go out of their way to make time,' remarks another editor.—Bulletin.

Boards of health in various cities of Canada and the United States are already puzzling over what to do to prevent another epidemic of influenza which is sure to occur, according to medical experts.

Winnipeg, Aug. 21.—An announcement made at the law courts today states that there are over 1100 divorce applications filed for hearing when the Court of King's Bench opens for the fall sittings.

In the majority of cases the divorce applications are being made by soldiers who have returned to find their wives have been unfaithful.

Binders Hum Sweet Tune.

The weather the past few days has been very favorable for proper ripening of grain and the click of the binder is heard in the land from sun-up till sun-set. There will be a shortage of hay but there will be an abundance of straw and late grass and roughage which will help a great deal to winter cattle and horses. In this neighborhood oats and barley will yield quite normal crops. Wheat in some cases will make a splendid showing but as a whole is not a good crop. Considering the dark days before the rains came nobody has a big kick coming at the remarkable come-back the crops staged after the knock-out wallow in the growing season.

$5,000 provision for your home — plus — $50 a month indemnity for yourself

Guaranteed to You Under Our New Special Indemnity Plan

It safeguards your income—

—protects your home, and—

—if you become permanently disabled—

—pays you $50 a month for life, and guarantees $5,000 to your family.

Whatever your income may be, a certain part of it is vital to your existence. Let us suppose that vital sum is

$50 a Month

That you must have.

But---

If some day, before you reach age sixty, you should become totally and permanently disabled through accident, paralysis, nervous break-down, blindness, rheumatism, or any mishap or illness that would leave you without an income and unable to earn a living—

How Could You Get Along?

From a financial standpoint that would be worse for you, for your family, and for your business than the loss of your life because, while your income would stop, your expenses would go on just the same.

Suppose, however, now that you are in good health, you take out a Canada Life Special Indemnity Policy—

Your Problem is Solved.

The Canada Life would become responsible for sending you $50.00 a month (or more, as you may have arranged) for the rest of your life.

When totally disabled you cannot earn premiums, so the premiums cease.

You will also need immediate funds. By allowing your dividends to accumulate for a few years you would have a substantial cash sum at your credit ready for an emergency.

The Policy will go on earning dividends which will be paid to you in addition to your income.

What Then?

It makes no difference how long you may live and continue to draw the monthly income, the Policy still carries the full $5,000 payable to your beneficiary. In other words, not one dollar of all that you receive in monthly payments will be deducted from the amount of the Policy.

This is the Policy you will want when you know how completely it does away with hazards that you are now taking. The premium required for all these benefits is very moderate.

Control Sugar Prices In United States

Washington.—Active control of sugar prices was resumed by the government through an agreement reached between the department of justice and the food administration, that licenses will be revoked by the latter when it is shown dealers have been profiteering. Sugar should reach the consumer at approximately 11 cents a pound, it was announced, based on the ownership of the entire domestic and Cuban crop by the United States sugar equalization board, which is selling to refiners at 7.28 cents a pound.

Refiners are under contract with the board to sell at nine cents, less two per cent. discount for cash; wholesalers and jobbers are allowed a maximum of 68 cents a hundred pounds for handling, and retailers are permitted a profit of one to one and one-half cents a pound, making a fair price of 11 cents except in cases where dealers have purchased at an "unreasonable" price due to misunderstanding in the trade. When this is a fact, a reasonable advance over the actual cost will be permitted.

With the house, agriculture committee's amendment for extension of the powers of the Food Control Act before it, the house was prepared to take action on the amendment, and thereby make its first extensive step toward beating down living costs. The amendment, which was reported to the house by a unanimous vote, includes retailers among those liable under the Food Control Act and its enactment, along with the control exercised over sugar. Officials believe, will do much to curtail profiteering by retailers.

Divorces in Manitoba

Winnipeg.—An announcement made at the law courts states that there are over eleven hundred divorce applications filed for hearing when the court of King's Bench opens for the fall sittings, September 15.

Six judges will be occupied hearing the cases. In the majority of cases the divorce applications are being made by soldiers who have returned to find their wives have been unfaithful. The cost of obtaining a divorce is from $200 up, according to lawyers.

Ask Intercession for Absentees

Harvesters Create Disturbances

Pillage Town, Fire Depot and Stone Passenger Trains en Route

Riviere du Loup, Que.—A trainload of young men, numbering between 800 and 900, belonging to different parts of the district, and who were leaving for the West to work on the farms during the harvest, created a serious disturbance on the train, also robbing and pillaging in this town, one shop being relieved of $300. At St. Andre de Kamouraska they set fire to the station, which was got under control before serious damage occurred. Other offences were committed at other places along the road, among them being the stoning of passenger trains. Detectives were finally placed aboard and the train proceeded to its destination, no arrests being made.

"Away With Erzberger"

Berlin.—Under the slogan "Away with Erzberger," the National Liberals staged a noisy meeting of protest, in which the speakers subjected the Minister of Finance to a vicious verbal grilling. Erzberger's activities from the time he conducted the armistice negotiations down to the present enactment of radical measures of taxation were made the subject of attacks from the floor rostrum. "Traitor," "Scoundrel," "Camouflaged Corruptionist," and similar epithets were heard. Some of the speakers demanded that Erzberger be strung up on the nearest lamp post.

At the meeting a resolution was adopted demanding Erzberger's retirement.

Helfferich May Be Prosecuted

Increased Wages For Telegraph Operators

Reduction in Working Time and an Advance of $10 and $12 Are Granted by Board

Montreal.—Substantial increases in wages are accorded the operators of the C.P.R. telegraphs by an award handed down by the Canadian railway war board, adjustment number one. An increase of $10 a month is given to Morse operators, "all outside points," and $12 a month to the percentage groups of the percentage offices. Included in the latter, are Montreal, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Moose Jaw, Calgary and Vancouver.

The wages in these three percentage groups will now be $133.25, $129.50 and $122, with a minimum over the entire system of $100 a month, with the exception of city branch offices (send only) where the minimum will be $75 a month, and also at one or two specified points.

An eight-hour day will be worked in all outside large centre offices, a reduction of one hour. The increase is to date back to June 1, and in future the clerks are to be included in the wage schedule.

In the present arrangement, however, the amount of wages of the clerks was not decided, but will be dealt with on September 16.

Austrians And Their Treaty

Are Wanting to Take it Back to Vienna

Paris.—The Austrian delegation told the supreme council that it would be necessary for them to take the complete text of the treaty to Vienna and to submit it to the assembly for approval before he delegates can sign it.

This suggestion brought expressions of surprise from members of the council, as it had been thought the Austrian delegation had full powers. The council is urging the Austrians to make some arrangements to sign the treaty without taking it to Vienna.

The signing of the treaty, as a result of this unexpected development, it was said, may be postponed until well into September.

Citizens Would Prosecute Prince

Berlin.—At a meeting of the citizens of Teltow, a suburb of Berlin, there was a discussion of the conduct of Prince Friedrich Leopold, cousin of former Emperor William, who, unlike Count Hohenzollern, remained there instead of leaving the country. It was alleged that he had engaged in illicit trading on a large scale and had hoarded large quantities of food. Local authorities recently searched his castle, confiscating great supplies of food, which were distributed among hospitals, but when they attempted to bring action against the prince they were told from authoritative quarters that he was immune, being a member of the royal family.

Serious Fires in Northern Idaho

Missoula, Mont.—The general fire situation in forestry district number one, Montana and Northern Idaho, has never in the history of the west been so serious as it is today, according to forestry officials. New fires are breaking out, old blazes are entirely out of control, and it is reported incendiaries in the woods not only have set fires in isolated spots, but have in several instances severed connections between the fire fighting crews and the outside world, with serious results.

Commr. C. Sowton to Go to Sweden

Toronto.—Commissioner Charles Sowton, of the Salvation Army, who has been in charge of the Western Canada territory with headquarters at Winnipeg, has been selected by General Branwell Booth to take charge of Salvation Army work in Sweden, according to an announcement made here by Col. John McMillan, chief secretary for the Toronto district.

Supply the Home Market First

Sydney, N.S.—Instructions have been issued to the refiners by the Canadian trade commission that all local demand for sugar must be looked after before this article is exported. Such was the gist of a telegram received by F. C. Kimber, secretary of the Sydney board of trade, in reply to a wire sent to the government.

Consumers to Fight Profiteers

Paris.—Citizens and housewives of the Montmartre district have formed the "consumers league of France" to combat the high cost of food-stuffs. It is the intention of the founders to enlarge the league into the national buyers' federation, with members throughout the country.

Why Britain Sets Low Wheat Price

Winnipeg.—In an interview on the price of $1.80 set by Great Britain for Canadian wheat, W. Sanford Evans, who represented the millers at recent conferences at Ottawa, said: "The situation is quite simple. This price of $1.80, mentioned in the cable, has, unquestionably, to my mind, nothing to do with the price at which the British Government will buy wheat, but the price at which it will reach, in conformity with its policy to ensure the ninepenny loaf. "Great Britain absorbs the difference between the purchase price and the price necessary to allow for the turning out of the four-pound loaf for ninepence. Canadian wheat, grading No. 1 northern, cannot be made into bread for ninepence a loaf. "Last year it cost Great Britain $235,000,000, the difference between the price it had paid for wheat and the price at which it had to be sold to allow for the ninepenny loaf. It had to charge prices for wheat which were less than the purchase price. "This $1.80 mentioned in the cable is the real price. The cable, in my judgment, has nothing to do with the purchase price. The British government will purchase at whatever price it can get the wheat, and then sell at a resale price of $1.80 in England."

"It has been said it before. It has in the past spread the difference over wheat and flour. Now the cut is all placed on the wheat. The government decided to subsidize the loaf and placed it all on the wheat, which will represent the ninepenny loaf."

U. S. Government Brings Down Prices

Washington.—Attorney-General Palmer said there was evidence that the government campaign to reduce the cost of living already was bearing fruit. A prominent vegetable grower of Maryland wrote Mr. Palmer that prices in many lines were beginning to ease off, as it became evident the department of justice meant business in announcing that criminal prosecutions against hoarders and profiteers would be instituted where the laws were violated.

The attorney-general and Judge Ames, his assistant, drew distinctions which they said the public should recognize between hoarded food and stored food. The former is held out of the market in greater quantities than required for the owners' business for the purpose of forcing up the market.

The latter is surplus, being hoarded from the harvest to the lean season. Reports to the attorney-general from state food administrators indicated that fair price boards rapidly were being set up in many states and were proceeding to get pledges from dealers to abide by the prices promulgated for the guidance of the public.

The department of justice announced that eleven cases had been brought under the Food Control act for seizure of food in Columbus, Ga., St. Louis, Detroit, Chattanooga and Kansas City.

Greeks Ask for Protection

London.—Saloniki representatives of 35,000 Greeks in the Ardskhan district of the Caucasus have telegraphed the peace conference requesting protection against Turkish soldier brigades, who, with Erzerum as a base, are holding massacres of the Greeks there, accompanied by much pillage.

Miners Talk of Five-Day Week

Sydney, N.S.—The five-day week, a demand for a 25 per cent. increase in wages and several other matters of prime importance to the coalfields, the miners and the province in general will be taken up at the big mining convention which is to meet in Sydney this week.

To Protect Britain From Profiteers

Fixed Price Of Wheat

If World Market Price Realized More, Producer to Get the Benefit

Ottawa.—Telegrams and communications received by the government, as well as comments made by brokers and others interested in the wheat trade, indicate that the government's action in fixing an initial price for wheat to be paid to the farmers by the wheat control board is still misunderstood in many quarters. It is assumed by many apparently that the initial price of $2.15 announced by the government is a fixed price and that no matter what the price of wheat may be the farmers will not receive more than that figure. On behalf of the government it was pointed out to a representative of the Canadian Press, Limited, that in the case of the Canadian farmer, he acts what the market of the world will give him. If the price of wheat should go to $2.30, $2.40 or $2.50, the farmer will get the benefit. On the other hand, in the United States, where a price has been definitely fixed, the farmer will simply get the fixed price.

The object of the government, it was further explained, was not to limit to any price or estimate the price that the farmer should obtain but rather to make sure that he should speedily get his crop and that he should receive the highest possible safe initial payment upon the crop. The government through the Canadian wheat board undertakes to sell the surplus crop, not at a fixed price, but at the best world price available, and to turn back to the farmer free from all speculative and profiteering charges the balance of the price received for his grain over and above the initial payment of $2.15.

It was further pointed out that the United States price was fixed before he war was over, on the assumption that the world conflict would continue. Had that not been done it is not regarded as probable that the United States would have made a fixed price, but as it is, the United States farmer gets the fixed price and no more.

Why Shoes Are High

Boston, Mass.—Enquiry into the high cost of shoes by the Suffolk county grand jury developed that some shoe workers have been earning $120 a week. These instances were said to be few, but it was testified that many made $60 a week, while the average was about $40. Unskilled help, formerly paid at $12 to $15 a week, have profited most, last boys getting as much as $30 a week. It was said that a pair of shoes sold by a manufacturer for $5.50 was displayed in a store four hundred yards from the factory marked at $12.

Inheritance Tax Bill Passed

Weimar, Germany.—The assembly has passed the inheritance tax bill. The members of the Right voted against the bill. They particularly opposed the paragraph inserted in committee, under which the tax on fortunes exceeding 150,000 marks is greatly increased and in some cases doubled.

Karl Muck Departs

New York.—Dr. Karl Muck, former leader of the Boston Symphony orchestra, who was ordered interned as an enemy alien April 5, 1918, and confined at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., during the war, has boarded the steamship Frederick VIII. for Copenhagen.

A Rubber Factory is to be Established at Collingwood, a Suburb of Vancouver.

London.—Premier Lloyd George has written to the press to the effect that the discussion of certain highly controversial points in his recent speech in the House of Commons has obscured other parts which are of vital concern to the country and deserve full discussion before parliament is asked to legislate thereon.

He accordingly furnishes a summary of the government's program as set forth in his speech, adding several proposals, to which he says he did not have time to refer to in his speech. One proposal is to establish a department of standards to promote and assist standardization in technical trade matters, which he regards as increasingly important to British industry.

Another point is his intention to introduce legislation to secure adequate measures permanently to protect the public from the harmful effects of trusts and combinations, should such protection become advisable. His mention of this subject in his speech referred to only a period of six months under the Profiteering Act.

Employment For Returned Men

There Should Be No Such Thing as the Soldier Problem

Ottawa.—The returned soldier problem, said Gen. Currie, during an address, had been brought to his notice since his return. He thought there was no such problem and urged the business men of Canada to give the men a chance on their return.

He thought that instead of the returned soldiers creating any problem that was being done by the men who stayed at home getting four or five times as much money as soldiers, and then became afraid their big money might fall off during the reconstruction period.

"Before the war," he said, Canada was able to absorb 500,000 immigrants yearly; surely we can absorb 500,000 returned men who are your own brothers. Before the war they were an asset to Canada, surely they are an asset on their return. Not a returned soldier should go unemployed."

Railways and Daylight Saving

Ottawa.—The action of the United States congress in killing daylight saving over the President's veto is taken here to mean the simultaneous death of the system in Canada. Whenever the United States sets back the clocks the Canadian railways will have to do likewise. The same argument that was used by them in adopting daylight saving last spring will apply to reverting to the old system at the same time as the Americans do it.

Bolsheviki Cut Off From Base

London.—Military authorities here point out that the occupation by General Denikin of the town of Cherkassy, on the Dnieper river, below Kiev, cuts the last remaining line of communication of the Bolsheviki with Odessa.

Resist Holiday Proposal

Paris.—There is much discussion of a possible vacation for the peace conference, but this is bitterly opposed by many members, who insist that it is impossible for the conference to take a recess until the Austrian treaty is disposed of at least. This probably cannot be before September 1.

No Waste Space

This attractive six-room house has no waste space and is at the same time an economical house to build for one who does not care to spend very much money in a house and at the same time have considerable room. It is intended that there be a vestibule for the front door extending out on to the verandah; this is shown on this plan. The two front rooms can be made into one large room, which would extend across the whole front of the house, making the living room do for a dining room on occasion. More furniture can be put in the kitchen, ordinarily so that this front room gives a chance to carry out many forms of decoration and arrangement which cannot be done in the usual living room. The upstairs has three bedrooms and bath, with ample closet room. This house has side entrance which can be changed to rear entrance if desired.

EXPANDING CANADIAN TRADE

Canadian Voyagers under Direction of Canadian National Railways clearing for the West Indies from Montreal July 10th, with a cargo of general merchandise. She is scheduled to return with sugar.

It is estimated that there will be about 300,000 bushels of wheat and 40,000 bushels of oats harvested on Indian lands in Alberta and Saskatchewan this season. About 150,000 bushels of wheat will be harvested on the reserves in Alberta, and the same quantity on those in Saskatchewan, but the greater part of the oats are being grown in Saskatchewan. This great harvest is the result of a greater production campaign which has been organized and encouraged by the government among the Indians during the last few years.

23 THE PROPRIETOR

Bolshevik Driven From Odessa
London.—The Bolshevik have been driven from Odessa, the most important port in the Black Sea, by the populace of the city, according to reports received by the British war office. It is reported also that the Soviet forces are evacuating Kiev and the entire Ukraine.

Mr. Stevenson added: "While the vocational branch of the department of soldiers' civil re-establishment instructs in 300 different occupations, the number in Great Britain in which instruction is given totals fifty." In way of comparison, there are more men receiving direction instruction in industries in Toronto than there are in London, 2,600 being so trained in the Canadian city.

We wish to note our appreciation of the work done on the Gratton Coulee road to Irma, by the Council of the M.D. of Battle River. Lack of funds would not allow the work to be done completely, but we are pleased that something has been done to improve this part of the road. A number of the neighbors have done some gratis labor in graveling a part of the road, and we are informed that a day or two more will be put in later on, to finish some more of the rocky places with gravel.

C. Christenson was the unfortunate victim of an accident on Wednesday while harvesting. It appears that he was in the field assisting John with the harvest and handling the grain on the table or platform which has been used to gather the short grain, when his hand was caught by the lever which throws the bundle from the binder, crushing the bones. He was taken to Irma, where Dr. McGregor temporarily dressed the wound, and his son Hans accompanied him to Edmonton, Wednesday evening, to receive further attention. We hope that Mr. Christenson may soon recover from his painful experience.

FRIEND DUCK WILL SOON GET HIS

Three more days and friend duck is going to get a place on the bill of fare.

The duck shooting season opens on Sept. 1st, and closes Dec. 14th. The prairie chicken and partridge season opens on Oct. 1st and ends Nov. 14th. While ducks have been driven from habitual haunts by the drying up of small lakes and ponds there is said to be a most attractive assembling of mallards et al, on the larger lakes. Likewise there has been a promising batch on the big waters up north during the season and a few cold nights will start the flocks southward.

All reports proclaim prairie chickens more numerous than for three or four years back, and partridge too, are said to be fairly plentiful in many districts.

The open season for mountain goats and sheep is between Sept. 1 and Nov. 1st. For deer, moose and caribou, the season is between Nov. 1st and Dec. 15th. Duck hunters are limited to a bag of 20 in a day, or 200 during the season.

Nailing a Misrepresentation and Calling Manager Slavik's Bluff.

The Viking News does not take defeat very sportsmanlike of the baseball team. The final baseball game on Aug. 15th at Irma Fair was not called by the umpire on account of darkness nor did the umpire call the game. The whole truth is the last half of the fifth innings, Jones, the Viking pitcher with Scotty's catcher, walked off the field after Johnston of Irma had batted a two bagger and Ray a single. With two men on bases and none down Viking wended their way homeward. The score was 3 to 1 and had they played out the innings they started it might of been 20 to 1. Manager Slavik either dreamed about the $100 side bet or he had told some uninterested fair spectator, as it could not have been any of Irma's live enthusiastic baseball supporters or the place and time would have been settled there and then. In conclusion we might say if the manager feels any sporty inclinations we will be pleased to name the place, time and cover his wager, providing he produces the same line-up.

There are Five Fundamental Things to Consider in the Planning of any Farm Building: Appearance, Economy, Practability, Convenience and Sanitation APPEARANCE

A well designed, handsome appearing, practical building will add to the attractiveness of any farm, and make it worth more to any prospective purchaser.

Correct designing has more to do with the appearance of the building than any other one thing. A long roof may have properly proportioned dormer windows to break the monotony of the roof and add greatly to the appearance when the building is finished.

Common types of barns are round, square, rectangular, L shaped and T shape. In roof styles we have Gable, Gothic and Gambrel roofs. The Gambrel roof is the most widely used by the best barn builders as it is easy to brace, is inexpensive and gives immense hay storage space.
